EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

- 1) An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Jerome Deluca on 7/22/2008.

The application has been amended as follows:

- The after final amendment filed 7/13/2007 has been entered.
- 103. (currently amended) A method, comprising:
  - receiving a request to purchase an issue of a periodical;
  - offering to sell a subscription of the periodical at a subscription rate;
  - receiving an acceptance to the offer to sell the subscription; and
  - recording, via a controller, a sale of the issue of the periodical by a retailer as an issue of the subscription.

Reasons For Allowance

- 2) The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 1 sets forth components (which are taken to be structure and not simply software per se – see PG PUB 20020046121 [¶ 0047]) – which are configured to receive a request to purchase an issue, to offer to sell the subscription, to receive acceptance of the subscription offer, and to record the sale of the issue as an issue of the subscription.

One way to purchase periodical subscriptions was to call a telephone center for ordering subscriptions. Magazine subscriptions also were not typically sold at retail outlets. Rather, single issues were purchased at retail outlets, the issues containing solicitations (cards) to purchase subscriptions. Several references (such as Jaben's "Magazine gift-giving made simple at retail outlets") teach the idea of selling subscriptions at retail stores/POS. However, these merely teach pre-paid subscription cards which are forwarded to the appropriate agency for sign-up and conventional fulfillment. Jaben does not teach a request to purchase an issue, an offer for a subscription, an acceptance of that offer followed by the recording of the sale of the issue as an issue of the subscription. While Wilson's "Directory assistance: a buyer's guide" teaches providing a bonus issue (a buyer's guide) outside the scope of a "normal" subscription, it does not overcome the deficiencies of Jaben.

Method claim 103 sets forth the steps of receiving, offering, receiving and recording which are representative of the configured capabilities in system claim 1 and is therefore allowable for similar reasons. Claim 103 has been amended to require that the controller perform the recording step, thus tying the method to another statutory class (an apparatus).

Claim 106 requires similar capabilities as claim 1, yet it provides for the capabilities as instructions embodied on a computer readable medium and is therefore allowable for similar reasons.

- 3) Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
